

Do you know the difference between a Trained Bilingual Interpreter and a Bilingual Interpreter? Would you like to learn the skills needed to become a CULTURALLY COMPETENT HEALTH CARE INTERPRETER?

PLEASE JOIN US in the upcoming 40-hour health care Interpreter training:
"Interpreting for HIV/AIDS Health Care Providers"

This training is FREE and available to all agencies directly funded through DHSP

ABOUT THE TRAINING

Special Service for Groups / PALS for Health, assesses for language proficiency and trains bilingual/bicultural health care providers on the skills of interpreting using the California Statewide Connecting Worlds Training® curriculum. In addition to the Interpreting curriculum, a variety of modules that cover specific HIV social issues and Cultural Competency in the health care setting are presented.

By joining us for this training, you will ensure that your agency is offering accurate and effective interpretation to its limited English proficient HIV/AIDS patients in a culturally sensitive manner. We encourage you to increase the skills of your bilingual / bicultural staff members serving people living with HIV and AIDS.

UPCOMING TRAINING: January 30, February 6, 13, 20, 27
2014

"The presentation was very thorough and had the tempo, slides, and research to keep me and the class involved in discussion during all the workshops. They not only provided evidenced-base research, but very carefully incorporated the untold, ignored, multi-dimensional aspects of AIDS politics and legislation with sensitivity and objectivity. It's the kind of learning experience that had such an impact on me; it could not stay within the confines of a classroom setting. It has shaped my vision of the AIDS epidemic and re-affirmed the valuable and crucial role that interpreters play in the health care field and in today's society."
